MarcEdit -- Your complete free MARC editing utility

Presented by Terry Reese

Batch Processing

Presented by Roman Panchyshyn

The Northern Ohio Technical Services Librarians are pleased to have Terry Reese, the creator of MarcEdit, as the featured presenter at their Fall 2009 Meeting with an opening presentation by Roman Panchyshyn (Kent State University), on how batch processing tools can help in your library. Terry Reese will demonstrate how MarcEdit is being used around the world as an invaluable tool for database maintenance. We are fortunate to have the creator of MarcEdit at the Fall NOTSL meeting to show us how this free software can make our work easier. Bring your laptop and join us for an educational day. Or, if you prefer, share a laptop with a friend or simply watch and learn how this program will work for you.
